Instructor's Name: Joe Rand

- Exceptional, interactive, thought provoking, respectful, well facilitated. Thank you, Joe! Great job, Joe! Really enjoyed his perspective and ideas. This was amazing. Joe was awesome! Joe Rand is awesome! Great activities – I will use with my 4-H youth. Great job at explaining topics, encouraging conversation. Would like more on strategies of support for GLBT youth, but I did appreciate the activities. Would love more time for sharing and strategizing. This was very rich. Liked his conversational style.

14. What would your response be to future sessions around this topic?

- Need more. This is so needed. Yes, great activities and open conversation. You just scratched the surface and really made me think. Continue to offer this session; awareness needs to be created! This was just the tip of the iceberg. The org. needs to pay more attention to this topic. We need more staff development related to this. Definitely would attend – something everyone should know about, especially creating safe spaces. More – we need it and we are obligated to create safe space for all youth. Yes, we need more. We need more sessions like this. So valuable. Thank you for reflection pieces. Yes, for all staff. Important topic we need to learn and understand. Volunteer training. More discussion after sessions. No complaints and great workshop! Yes, let's do it. Good to have an operations person (Tamie Bremseth) to co-present too, perhaps. Grateful. Great activities – would like more conversations and more resources in supporting youth of diversity. Focus more on race/ethnic, not just GLBT. Policy discussions. Do them. Nothing – it was perfect. It's a very gray area, but it was handled well.

15. What one or two ideas/resources did you find the most useful?

- The “if you or someone you know” exercise. Some of the activities, creating a safe space and building trust and understanding. Partner organizations. Activities, website. I liked that you acknowledged that you don’t have all the answers for us as a representation of everyone. Walk across the room activity. Activities. All parts of session were informative and eye opening. Activities on how to create safe spaces. Activities – loved the poem and sculpture activity. There are tons of resources, but you have to be comfortable on the topic to make a difference and solve the issues happening. Great experiential stuff and reflection. All of the activities/exercises to bring back to Ambassadors/county.
